

WHY JOIN SAC?

SAC champions the needs of people with hearing and communication disorders through the strength and support of our growing membership and through our ongoing advocacy activities. The more members and associates we have, the stronger our voice when we communicate your priorities to decision-makers at the federal level.

With more than 6,000 members and associates, SAC is the largest organization in Canada representing communication health professionals and the only one to represent speech-language pathologists, audiologists and communication health assistants within one organization.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

- Completion of an educational program for communication health assistants in speech-language pathology and/or audiology or equivalent.
- Official transcripts indicating proof of graduation and signed proof of having completed 200 hours of clinical practicum must be forwarded to the SAC national office.

Members and associates receive access to our blog Communiqué (previously produced as an award-winning online magazine) and the Canadian Journal of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology (CJSLPA), our peer-reviewed journal. We also send you e-newsletters with SAC updates and timely "Flash" messages with important news that's relevant to you.

MAILING LISTS

Advertising revenue helps support SAC programs and keep fees low. As such, SAC occasionally makes its list of members and associates available to organizations/companies that provide products and services of interest to our members and associates. We review the content of these mailouts and only share mailing addresses for one-time use. We may also occasionally send an email on behalf of these organizations/companies, but we do not share members' or associates' email addresses.

Please check this box if you wish to be included in this list

MEMBER AND ASSOCIATE DIRECTORY

The Member and Associate Directory is a listing of all current SAC members and associates who choose to opt in. It is located in the Members and Associates section of our website at www.sac-oac.ca and is not available to the public.

Please check this box if you wish to be listed in the Member and Associate Directory.
